

Gastronomic and wine roadtrip in the Swan Valley

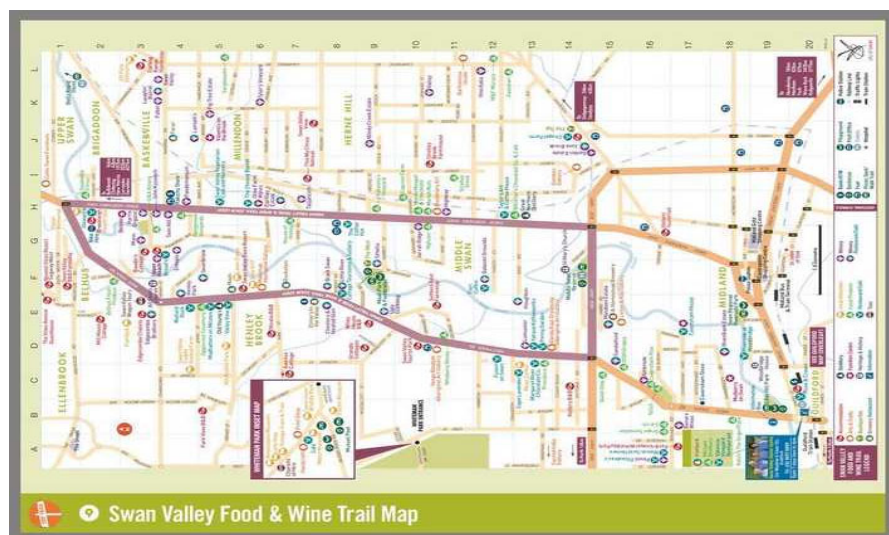

A gastronomic roadtrip on Australia's West Coast

If for your holidays you are looking to entertain both your eyes and your taste buds, a roadtrip in the Perth area is what exactly what you need.

Wine lovers and foodies will be seduced by the Swan Valley. Being the oldest wine region on West Coast, it is home to more than 40 vineyards, each offering wine tasting and walk-in tours.

You won't be disappointed by the originality and the number of activities offered in the region. Meeting with wine makers or trying out some of the many Michelin star restaurant in the area, the gastronomic tour is one you will never forget.

Whether you are more into Chardonnay, Syrah, Cabernet or Chenin Blanc, follow the 32-km long Swan Valley Heritage Trail and enjoy the best grappes Australia has to offer.

Once your taste buds are fully contented, it's time to get around the National Parks in the region to get your eyes on the landscapes they've been dreaming about. Go for some rafting or canoeing in Walyunga or Avon Valley National Parks. Meet with some koalas or kangaroos in the Caversham wildlife reserve, or take a look at crocodiles in the Henley Brook park.

Finally, you shouldn't leave Australia without a tour by one of the many beaches. Therefore, to end this roadtrip, nothing like a swim with dolphins at Rockingham or Bunbury Discovery center.

There are no good reason to postpone this trip. To get a quote now, just head this way...
