The namibian climate

Discover the best time to visit the different regions of Namibia depending on the temperatures.

It is possible to travel all year round in Namibia. The hottest time of the year is from January to March. From July to September it is very hot inland during the day but the nights are cool. If you wish to visit Etosha Reserve, the best time of the year is from March to September.

Below you will find an overview of the average monthly temperatures per RV rental centre.
