

5 unusual experiences to discover New Zealand

1 / A helicopter ride to admire the volcanic island of White Island

Fly by helicopter the only active New Zealand volcano! The more adventurous can survey the bottom of the crater and observe the formations of sulfur, fumaroles and hot springs very closely. The island is private, which gives the feeling of being able to fall on the den of the villain of a James Bond at any time. As a bonus, you will get an aerial view of the volcano and Rotorua lakes.

2 / Riding a single ladder in Wanaka

Wanaka, the neighboring city of Queenstown, should be a MUST for your trip to New Zealand, especially if you like to joust Indiana Jones of modern times. Wildwire Wanaka offers you to climb an unusual ladder. It is located along a gigantic waterfall "Twin Falls" where the view is spectacular.

3 / The "Mailboat" cruise

Did you always think that you had an unconfessed postman vocation? We have found the solution to realize your biggest dream. For almost a century, the Post Pelorus boat has been delivering mail, errands and much needed goods to the isolated homes of Marlborough Sounds. This is surely the most authentic way to discover this region. You will discover unique places, get to know the local people and be in the front row to enjoy the fauna and flora.

4 / Fly in cable because near Nelson

Want strong feelings and nature? Do not miss flying over the beautiful landscapes of the Nelson area aboard a cable car through the mountains and forest. A journey of 1.6 kms unforgettable !!

5 / Chase the aurora and stars in the southern islands

During a stay in Australia, it is imperative that you go all the way south of New Zealand to contemplate the aurora australis from March to September. To attend this magnificent show, we advise you to go to The Catlins, Invercargill, Lake Tekapo or Dunedin.