

The essentials in Scotland

The Scottish terroir

With an important cultural heritage, Scotland is renowned for its whisky production, Celtic festivals and pubs. You can easily discover this country on board your motor home or van.

The unavoidable Scotch whisky

Famous all over the world, Scotch whisky is known for its triple distillery giving it a lighter taste. The month of May in Scotland is dedicated to whisky. Many festivals take place all over the country allowing the public to visit the distilleries. Festivals take place in different cities of the country.
