

The Everglades

The best of Florida

CampingCar-Online/Ramble Campervans suggests a Florida itinerary starting from Orlando or Miami. Florida will bring you warmth, sun and white, sandy beaches - everything you need for a good motorhome holiday with family or friends.

Miami is a seaside paradise with long, white, sandy beaches, turquoise waters and dazzling shores. After exploring and enjoying the city and the Port of Miami, take the famous road that stretches over 100 miles to the Everglades and the Keys. You can also travel to the Everglades starting from Orlando (only 240 miles from Miami). If you're travelling with children you may want to take the opportunity to visit Disney World!

Along the journey in your motorhome you will discover the small islands between the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean. The Everglades National Park makes southern Florida unique with its waterlogged savannah and wetlands teeming with spectacular wildlife. The tranquillity and natural beauty of the Everglades is very special.

As you continue your journey you will see that the American roads are well adapted to motorhomes and offer easy driving conditions. In addition, you will have no difficulties finding campsites.

Islamorada is your next stop. Enjoy the local cuisine and diving museum. Marathon and Big Pine Key are aquatic, family destinations which you can explore in your motorhome before reaching Key West, the southernmost point of the American continent. Enjoy the old town of Key West, adorned with palm trees and much appreciated for its colonial architecture. Admire the sunset from Mallory Square.
